L and N – Advanced Practice

This worksheet is designed to give you more advanced practice in using both the /l/ and /n/ sounds. In many places, /l/ and /n/ will occur within the same word.

Sentence Practice:
1. I looked at my calendar and learned that today is national holiday.
2. My new lawnmower is unbelievably easy to use.
3. When I was in London, I lived alone and worked as a librarian.
4. She watched the pelicans land in the canal while she ate her lunch.
5. John is very talented and intelligent, but he is also unreliable.
6. Occasionally I will make a whole gallon of lemonade.
7. The violin piece was quite challenging for her to learn.
8. I left my necklace and sunglasses on the plane.
9. Our planet has many natural wonders and unusual animals.
10. I found a nickel and a pencil as I was doing laundry today.

Paragraph Practice:
When I was in elementary school, I found learning to be challenging. My third grade teacher and I had a special relationship, and I loved her personality. She understood that each child was an individual, with his or her own learning style. Her discipline was firm but loving, and she easily and naturally maintained order in the classroom. I really enjoyed science, especially when we learned about chameleons and lightning bugs, as well as the planets of our solar system. Eventually, I became a stellar student, and I owe this to my beloved teacher, who always believed I was brilliant!
